WATCH the curl of Jack Gross' smoke next Saturday.

THE man that gets 1500 votes in this primary will be the nominee.

FROM every nook and corner of this county comes encouraging reports of Gross' election.

From now until four o'clock, p. m., next Saturday is the time for every friend of Jack Gross to be on the move.

THAT bit of news which was to interest the ladies, and which was to come from the Cleveland household is not in yet.

Any Gross man who stays at home next Saturday is not composed of the same kind of material that Jack Gross is made of.

Ler loose the reins and whip in the flank as we go under the string, boys, and then if it is close we will fall through the polls, a winner by a nose.

You ought not to be so sure that you can run over christmas on your arguments on the silver question. About the time frost comes you may have to give up your job.

THE Populist party seems to have some life left in it yet. At least senator Peffer, their leader, tried to make that impression upon the country the other day in a three hours speech in the United States Senate.

In another letter to the Hawesville Plaindealer J. E. Keith says, "I am opposed to men who buy votes, either with whisky, money or promises" So it seems that Richardson has lost another friend.

BEN Johnson had to say something when his actions in the "skin game" were discovered, so he tried to "run a sandy." He has however pulled his "chips" back before there was an opportunity to get "called."

Surrose Josh Powers had sent Jack Gross his check for $200-merely as a loan if you please. Ye Gods, Richardson and Minor would have mounted every stump and tree top in the three counties proclaiming fraud and corrupt-

THE attention of the members of the City Council is called to an article which appears in the local columns of this paper. It is to be hoped that they will take immediate action to remedy the evil set forth therein. It is imper-

Congress is moving slowly in trying to bring us out of this financial dilemma But it is hardly necessary to depend upon Congress to do it after all. Much depends upon us as individuals. Let us live soberly, and economically and not try to roll too high.

THERE was a big scare a few months ago about the cholera reaching this country, but it is not so blamed certain that we have been fortunate in escaping it, considering the condition of the country, one half being in a financial hole and the other half dead broke.

MESSAS. Piggott and Jolly write us denying the charge printed in these columns last week, that they gave Dave Henry money to use in the interest of Mr. Richardson. We don't sappose any sold by Druggists, 75c. sane man believes that they are guilty of the charge, but nevertheless Mr. Henry said so in the presence of good men. It will be held next Saturday, September was probably one of Dave's idle jokes, 2d, and every Democrat should get out but there was just as much in it as there | to the election and vote early for A. J. brought into the canvass.

Don't forget the county candidates and the precinct meetings next Saturday.

As the Senatorial candidates are entering the home stretch, as seen through our field-glass, it seems that Gross has a safe lead. The double team of bluegrass steeds are harnessed so tightly together that they are handicaping each other, and Gross is moving away.

Monus Beard was in town last night, and in speaking of the Senatorial race said: "Jack Gross is all right. It is not in the books to defeat him. Put it down," said he, "that Hardinsburg will give him the biggest majority in the county." Good for old Hardinsburg.

DR. COTTRELL, like Grover Cleveland, is spending these balmy summer days fishing, not in Buzzard's Bay, but in the beautiful and placid Ohio. Both of these, distinguished gentlemen are so far ahead of their fellowmen that they can afford to spend a few idle days in that most delightful mind easing sport.

It is the opinion of Chairman Barnes that officers appointed to hold the pri-ved we want to sell.—Beard & Beeler. mary next Saturday shouldn't charge anything for their services. At all times there is some sort of patriotism, love of country, party feeling or fellowship due worth 10, 15, 20 and 25,—Beard & Beeler. from all of us, and this it would seem will be the time and place to test it.

THE NEWS takes pleasure in congratulating the Baptist church of this city. In calling Rev. Williams, they have secured a good pastor, a good preacher and an excellent citizen. His sermon last Sunday was broad and liberal, full of religion and the Holy Ghost, and calculated to do much good to any church and community. In the name of all good citizens we welcome you Mr. Williams.

KEEP A "SKUNNED" EYE.

WHILE the ways of the fox are not commendable, they are wily, and we wish to caution the people against being further mposed upon. It is well-known that this Senatorial race has been the most filthy within the history of this section of the State, but the blame cannot be laid at the door of either Gross or his friends. Frade, Beard & Beeler. The entire Gross campaign has been conducted on an elevated scale and on the defensive. All the many charges that settle.-Witt & Meador. have been thrown at him have been proved to the satisfaction of the people to be untrue, and Gross stands today in a prices. Call on Vickers. pure light, honest and true. This is the last issue of a Gross paper before the election, and the public campaign will close today with the speaking at Custer. Now, as there will be no further opportunity of informing the people, we wish to caution them against any and all reports that may be circulated between now and Saturday and on that day. It will be in accordance with the manner in which the enemies of Gross have conducted the campaign all along, for them now to put more filth in circulation, knowing that there will be no time left to deny it and prove it to be false. Persons who indulge in this kind of politics do not deserve fav- this city yesterday at the residence of Satisfaction guaranteed with each bottle orable recognition by the respectable Mr. Lee Meyer. people of this District, and from now on that has not already been in the campaign. Let every Gross man be on the alert, an I the victory is ours.

WE STAND BY GROSS.

Our Brandenburg correspondent is right in her criticisim of the Senatorial canvass. It's a burning shame that so many personalities and little mean things should have been brought into the race. But they are in, and the quesion now is, who's responsible for bringing them in? We are sure Mr. Gross is is not responsible for them, for everyone knows who has heard the candidates speak that he has been on the defensive all the time. Both Mr. Richardson and Mr. Minor jumped onto him in the outset attacking his record and questioning his motives for every public act in his life. He met the charges in a manly, upright way and in the best of spirits. Failing to accomplish their ends in this way, they sent out of the district and got letters from Gross' personal enemies and rung them in to down him, but in this they failed, as in everything else they have brought against him. We can assure our fair correspondent that we star ad in to make a fair and manly fight for our man, but we were forced into using measures that were not altogether to our liking. We have refrained from printing a great many things which appeared in outside papers attacking Mr. Richardson's record in the Legislature, simply because we are his friend and if he is the nominee we expect to support him with all our might and power, and for that reason we did not care to use such stuff against a fellow Democrat. *

We feel that we have only done our duty to a countyman and neighbor, and we also feel that the voters of Breckenridge will stand by us and in the language of our fair correspondent will say, "Listen not to prejudice, to petty ignoble rumors, but be true to your county pride, by voting for your countyman,' A. J. Gross.

THE GREEN RIVER VALLEY AS-SOCIATION HOLDS AN IN-TERESTING SESSION IN CLOVERPORT.

Much Valuable Work Done With Good Results for the Cause of Christ.

ADJOURNED SUNDAY NIGHT.

The Green River Valley Association met in its ninth annual session Wednesday morning, August 23d, at the Westine Baptist church of this city. The messengers and visitors arrived in large numbers until the city was filled to overflowing. Among the prominent visiting messengers from other states were Rev. C. H Clark, D. D., of Nashville, Tenn., Rev. B. Stone, of Noblesville, Ind. The association also had the pleasure of entertaining the General Missionary of Kentucky, Rev. P. H. Kennady, D. D., of Henderson, who explained the nature of his work and also its necessity, in a very intelligent manner. After an excellent talk to the members, he received a very liberal collection from the association for his mission work.

On Thursday night the doctrinal ser-D. D The sermon was an excellent one in every respect, and it was very highly appreciated by a very large and intelligent audience. The association, though still quite young, is doing a great work. It is composed of a set of wide-awake, energetic young ministers who seem willing to leave no stone unmoved that would hinder the advancement of the cause of Christ. The discussions before the body were carried on in a very intelligent, christianly manner. The election of officers resulted as follows:

Moderator Rev. J. H. Ealy, of South Carrolton; Assistant Moderator, Rev. B. R. Reed, of Owenshoro; Recording Secretary, Prof. W. R. Harding, of Owensboro: Corresponding Secretary, Frank Simmons, of Rome; and Treasurer, Samuel Bennett, of Livermore. The association showed great inteligence in selecting such a worthy set of officers.

After a very successful meeting the body adjourned Sunday night to meet at Bethlehem, Ky., Thursday before the third Sunday in August 1894.

Funeral of Rev. E. H. Morrison.

The funeral and burial services of Rev. E. H. Morrison, pastor of the Methodist E. church, South, of Cloverport, were solemnized at the Methodist church, or last Friday, the 25th day of August. Rev. J. M. Lawson, the Presiding Elder lead the services, aided by Dr. Cottrell, Rev. Will Haves and Rev. W. C. Bran-

The full ritual of the church, as appointed in the discipline was observed, in addition to an extemporized prayer by Dr. Cottrell, and a brief statement by Elder Lawson, of the more salient facts of Mr. Morrison's ministerial life. These facts were, that Mr. Morrison was a son of a Methodist itinerant preacher, reared in the church and in the itinerancy; that on becoming an itinerant minister himself, he was received into the Louisville Conference at the Session held in Cloverport, in the fall of 1875 His first pastoral charge was a Circuit bordering H. & W., has all been cleared away, but on Cloverport, and there, as pastor, he
